

DESCRIPTION:

An adult chimpanzee sits in the rainforest grooming the fur of a baby chimp that is lying in front of it, one foot in the air supported by the adult chimp.

A man in a green khaki shirt is positioned in front of the roots of a large moss-covered tree in the rainforest.

SPEAKER:

One of the most amazing moments I remember was when Freddie was lying down on the forest floor and went to sleep and he was cradling Oscar in his arms.

DESCRIPTION:

A baby chimp is lying on its back in the arms of a sleeping adult chimp on the forest floor.

SPEAKER:

Oscar was lying on his back and he was looking up at the canopy, but he looked as though he was contemplating life.

DESCRIPTION:

The forest canopy filled with vivid green leaves in dappled sunlight.

The baby chimp scratches its lip and gazes upwards.

SPEAKER:

I mean, it looked so human in the way that, you know, people would lie on a hammock, perhaps, and they would just think about things.

DESCRIPTION:

The baby chimp gazes steadily upwards, blinking occasionally.
